MINISTRY & LIFE PERSPECTIVES

Teach Us to Pray

Who taught you to pray? Very often it is a parent who first introduces this marvelous truth to us: that we can freely talk directly with God, Who is always there to listen to us and Who will speak to us as well.

For the Apostles, it was Jesus Who taught them to pray in a compelling way. As they watched their Friend and Teacher in prayer, they saw an intensity in Jesus' union with God that inspired them, and they wanted to grow in that spiritual connection themselves. He was their rabbi, their leader; He kept the crowds spellbound by His teaching; He had a comfort and ease in being with both rich and poor, the powerful and the weak, the robust and the sick. These were all human qualities other rabbis no doubt also possessed in some measure. But His prayer was unmistakably unique and the source of His wisdom and sense of purpose: "I came not to do My own will, but the will of the One Who sent Me." And so they asked Him: "Lord, teach us to pray, as John taught his disciples."

To learn to pray is a lifelong process, because it is simply the living communication in the relationship each of us has with God. Just as we converse with our loved ones differently at the different stages of life – children to parents and grandparents, and vice versa; spouses at early, middle, and later stages of marriage; school-age friends and those of later life – so to our conversation with God will mature and change if we are deliberate about it.

The Catechism notes that prayer is a "vital and personal relationship with the living and true God." So prayer is this relationship, which can take a variety of forms of expression. More than formulae of words and rituals, prayer is "the raising of one's mind and heart to God" (St. John Damascene). In other words, prayer must come from the heart, and the deepest prayer needs no words or actions at all. When we are in communion with God, we are praying. But sustaining this communion in our human condition in this life requires attention, motivation, a conscious decision to speak – and more importantly, to listen – to God.

Prayer can be praise, petition for our needs, intercession for others, thanksgiving, or contrition. I think of the four phrases we learn as children to guide our respectful relationships with others: "Thank you," "I love you," "Please," and "I'm sorry." These sum up the major types of prayer, all found in the Mass. As the Catechism emphasizes, prayer is always about "today" – our prayer is to reflect our lived relationship with God in our lives as they are. It is not some separate piety or practice with no other connection to life as we experience it; true prayer is immersed in the specifics of my own "here and now."

Each person's prayer is as unique and unrepeatable as each soul; in your personal prayer, do what works for you to speak to and hear God. As the Catechism puts it: "The Lord leads all persons by paths and in ways pleasing to him, and each believer responds according to his heart's resolve and the personal expressions of his prayer." It is good to be familiar with many forms – verbal prayers like the Rosary, the Chaplet of Divine Mercy, Stations, or the Liturgy of the Hours; practices like lectio divina or visio divina (meditation on Scripture or Christian art); Eucharistic adoration; silent contemplation, and simply listening for God in stillness.

Only with time, practice, and above all perseverance, will one's personal connection with God grow and mature. That connection also helps us to cut through the clamor of so many human voices that seek to persuade or influence us. Facing today's many problems, we do best to begin with the question: "I know what the newscasters and politicians and bloggers and celebrities say; but what does God have to say?"

When we have a solid prayer life individually, we bring that to the communal celebration of Mass, and everyone's experience is enriched. Though at times prayer can seem empty or dry, no time with God is ever lost, wasted, or without its lesson.

When we know someone well and value that person's company, spending time together is not a chore or obligation, but a joy to be savored. The same is true with God. However much you pray already, add five minutes over the course of this week, especially just to listen. If you don't know where to begin, do what the Apostles did. Simply ask, "Lord, teach me to pray."

STEWARDSHIP

Prayer is the first step to loving those around us.

A stewardship lifestyle is a lifestyle of prayer

Start Now- Take 3 slow deep breaths. Ponder God's unconditional love for us. As you ponder and listen to understand God's love, speak with Him.

Of course you know-- There is no treasure greater than our relationship with God. There is one God for all humankind. He is love. We are made in His image, by Him.

FINANCE COUNCIL BUDGET REPORT

July 1 marked the start of our new fiscal year. The Finance Council worked carefully to pass a thoughtful and realistic budget for 2021-22 that keeps spending at a conservative level and follows trendlines for income. Even so, we did end up passing a deficit budget of about $139,000. Some of our costs are not within our discretion, including interest payments on our loan ($48,000) and our investment in Catholic education and our assessments from the Diocese. There is no area that stands out as an easy way to reduce expenses; like your households, perhaps, it is a little here and a little there. Another factor in the budget is the trendline noted above of a decreased level of financial giving. We saw a high of $880,000 at the end of fiscal year 2013 and have tracked a steady decline though June 2018. We undertook an increased giving campaign in fiscal year 2019 that brought in a generous regular giving amount of $870,000. Of course, COVID has been hard on all of us the past two years and that is reflected in giving of $818,000 (FY2020) and $829,000 (FY2021). More details on the past year will come out in the next month or so with the Annual Report.

We would like to arrive at June 2022 in a positive financial situation and continue to fulfill our parish's mission in the rich array of services and programs. To do this, our weekly income needs to be around $18,500. July is always a slow month in terms of regular giving. We brought in just under $45,000 compared to the "need" goal of $74,000.

We are grateful for every contribution you make to our parish and its mission in service to the Gospel. Your prayer, your hours of ministry, your focus on faith in your homes and workplaces, your kindness to one another in witness to Christ are all invaluable. As we look to our future, we invite you to prayerfully review your financial support of our parish for its service to the Gospel. We will do a Time, Talent and Treasure campaign late in the fall. If you are able to increase your giving (in any of these areas), we will be grateful and pledge our responsible and careful management of your gifts.

As you know, our Parish Festival is coming up on Sunday, August 22. Most importantly, a successful event builds our community, but it is always a big boost to our budget as well. Please attend, donate items, pick up some new treasures, grab lunch, play some bingo and enjoy fellowship. Bring your friends and neighbors!

Please watch this space as we hope to give you monthly updates.

PRAYER REQUESTS

If you know of anyone who needs our prayers and wants to be put on the following prayer list, please call 320-251-8115: Gerry Feld, Ed Kirchner, Dorine Laudenbach, Joanne Mick, Linda Midas, Cynthia Schauland, Mary Sebas and Steve DiBrito.
